FIRST SERMON ON SUNDAY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY — Dr. Paul C. Johnston, nationally known church leader, will preach his first sermon as Stanford chaplain at 11 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 9, in Memorial Church.

A Menlo Park Resident Reports:

U.S. Progresses In Task of Rebuilding Germany

An affable, learned Menlo Park resident who has seen at first hand the bitter economic and political struggles inside post-war Germany settled back in a chair at his home here Tuesday and gave a vivid word picture of how the United States is endeavoring to restore her former enemy to self-sufficiency and combat the spread of communism.

He is Dr. John B. Canning, 64-year-old former professor of economics at Stanford university, who recently retired after his second tour of duty with the military government in Germany. Dr. and Mrs. Canning have returned to their home at 646 Partridge avenue where, as Dr. Canning put it, he will "take it easy for some time."

Ill health forced him to resign from his position as chief of the food and agriculture group for military government headquarters in Germany, a post he filled during his second tour of duty. In this capacity he advised General Clay and other top officials on procurement and distribution of food in the United States and British occupation areas.

Dr. Canning first went to Germany in September, 1945, as assistant chief of the food and agriculture branch. His principal responsibility was centered on quadripartite negotiations in Germany and he also worked closely with neighboring European countries in procurement of food for the combined United States and British areas of Germany, and resumption of food trade.

He returned to Menlo Park in 1947, but returned to Germany in February, 1948, for a second tour of duty at the special request of General Clay, U. S. military governor for Germany. He was promoted to chief of the branch in August, 1948.

Dr. Canning, whose career embraces 22 years of teaching and six years of government service, discussed the Berlin air lift and the general outlook in Germany.

Success of the air lift has been clearly demonstrated, he said.

"When it was first begun, nobody figured it would last long," he declared.

"Now it has grown into a routine affair, just as any air operation. The air supply system into the Russian-blockaded area is adequate and there now is a 45-day supply of food on hand in Berlin. The morale of the air force operating the lift is excellent."

Asked whether the success of the famed air lift might be a means of ending the Soviet blockade of western Berlin, Dr. Canning said:

"Our ability to supply the western sector puts us in a much better bargaining position toward ending the blockade."

He declared that the United States "ability to supply Berlin by air and our willingness to do so" had a definite influence on the recent elections which developed into a slap at the Soviets.

"So far as the Germans are concerned, the United States and the other western powers are making headway in the so-called cold war," Dr. Canning said.

"The situation is stronger than it was a year ago.

"There is no critical food shortage in the western zone and we have gotten past the bare subsistence stage."

Dr. Canning described his duties

RECORDER GETS NEW PUBLISHER

The RECORDER this week publishes under new management.

Duane S. Loughlin announced sale of the newspaper and printing plant to Clarence A. Burley.

Burley is a graduate of Stanford University, class of 1942. He comes back to the area from several years with newspapers in other parts of the country. Last August he resigned as copy editor of the Chicago Daily News.

Loughlin will remain with the newspaper for a time as associate publisher.

Contingent Upon Annexation:

Belle Haven, Suburban Park Offered Representation In MP Government

Menlo Park's city government plans to fill present and future vacancies on the city council, planning commission and recreation commission from Belle Haven City and Suburban Park if those areas vote for annexation at this month's special elections, it was disclosed this week.

Belle Haven City will vote on annexation Jan. 14, and Suburban Park on Jan. 19.

Mayor Charles P. Burgess said there will be vacancies on all three municipal bodies and that it is the plan of the city council to appoint members from Belle Haven and Suburban Park if annexation is approved by the residents.

There will be two vacancies on the recreation commission. The Rev. Eric Jackson has resigned, and the resignation of Mrs. Vernon Barker, wife of the former city councilman, is expected when the Barker family moves to Atherton.

Chairman Uno Ahlenius of the planning commission has moved to North Palo Alto and his resignation is expected at the next commission meeting.

Residence in Menlo Park is required for membership on the commissions.

Mayor Burgess disclosed that one city councilman, whose name he did not disclose, has agreed to resign in the event of Belle Haven City-Suburban Park anexation, in order to provide for appointment of a councilman from that area.

However, representation on the

Traffic Enforcement Increases; Building Sets Record In MP

All construction records in Menlo Park were broken in 1948 and the way was shown by building of new single family dwellings in keeping with the residential community atmosphere of the city. Valuation of building permits issued last year totaled $3,910,905, of which $2,554,000 was in single family homes, it was shown by reports of Building Inspector J. D. Steiger.

Value of new construction of all types under permits taken out during the year ranged to a high of $430,550 in May from a low of $118,500 in Novemebr.

Permits issued for single family homes reached their peak in June with a valuation of $337,100. The low was $88,000 in November.

During the year, permits were issued for 301 residential units of all types, including single family, duplexes and multiple-unit structures.

The year marked also Menlo Park's venture into operating its own building inspection and permit division. Up to July 1, inspection was conducted by the county government on a fee basis. A study of permit fees showed a city building inspection department would be more than self-supporting, and it was created with the beginning of the new fiscal year, in charge of Steiger, who formerly handled Menlo Park building inspection for the county under the old system.

The city's inspection department is operated on a fiscal year basis so far as finances are concerned.

In his annual report, Steiger listed total fees of $6010.25 from July 1 to Dec. 31, the last half of the current fiscal year. The sum included $3798 in building permit fees, $1285.85 in plumbing fees and $926.40 in electrical fees.

Permits Issued For Apartments

Newest evidence of Menlo Park's surge in residential construction was issuance of building permits yesterday for construction of two four-unit apartment houses in Menlo Villa, at 320 and 340 Ravenswood avenue.

Cost of each of the two buildings was set at $24,000, according to Building Inspector J. D. Steiger.

The owner is J. A. McKellar of Atherton and the builder is J. W. Cabbage of Palo Alto.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY—Lewis W. Forman of Palo Alto has been appointed a market analyst on the staff of Stanford research institute, it was announced by Dr. J. E. Hodson, executive director.

A sharp reduction in Menlo Park traffic accidents, a year free of highway death, a step-up in traffic enforcement and 12 months without major crime are shown in the annual report of Police Chief George Potter, completed this week.

Potter, who took over as chief Jan. 1, 1948, will submit his report to the city council at its regular meeting Tuesday, Jan. 11.

Major strides were made last year in traffic safety.

The year 1948 passed without a motor vehicle death in incorporated Menlo Park, contrasted with four in 1947.

Injury accidents last year were 19, against 22 in 1947, while non-injury accidents were 72 against 122 in the precedong year.

Traffic arrests increased to 3257 in 1948 from 3065 in 1947. Speeders made up the bulk of those receiving citations, totaling 1160 last year. Other more common offenses were signal violations, 28 citations; passing over white barrier, 410; overtime parking, 340; arterial stops, 134 and overnight parking, 680.

There was one conviction and arrest for reckless driving in 1948. Thirty-one arrests were made for drunken driving, against 23 in 1947.

So far as crime was concerned, 1948 was a quiet year for Menlo Park. There were 26 reported cases of house prowling, against 42 in 1947. Burglaries dropped to four last year from 13 in 1947. Juvenile cases totaled 45, against 50 the preceding year.

Three bad check cases were reported last year, compared with 14 the year before. Potter pointed out the figures do not represent all cases, since numerous go unreported.

Four officers were appointed during the year, giving the department a total of eight as of Dec. 31.

Potter said that of 16 applicants for solicitors' permits, three were found to have criminal records for sex offenses.

STANFORD PROFESSOR TAKES INDIA GOVERNMENT POSITION

STANFORD UNIVERSITY—Dr. James W. McBain, Stanford professor of chemistry emeritus, has accepted appointment under the central government of India as director of the national chemical laboratories of India, he disclosed this week.

The appointment is for an intial period of three years. The invitation to Dr. McBain was extended by Sir Shanti Swarup Bhatnager, director of the Indian Council of Scientific and Industrial Research.

Dr. McBain said he will leave for India February 8.

THAT OLD OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Appeals by the Menlo Park police department and fire district for a safe New Year's holiday really worked, the record shows.

In last week's RECORDER, Police Chief Potter and Fire Chief Cuff issued pleas to keep the dangerous holiday period free of tragedy and property damage from highway accidents and fires. As a result, policemen and firemen had a virtual holiday themselves, which was all to the good.

Potter reported that the New Year's weekend, with all the attendant hazards of a two-day holiday, passed without one reported traffic accident in Menlo Park. In fact, all was quiet on the police front. Only one arrest was made for drunkenness.

The firemen also were able to take it easy. In contrast to the Christmas weekend, when a series of fires caused some $12,000 damage, there were but three calls over New Year's. Only one involved an actual fire, and that caused slight damage to an automobile. A second alarm was to retrieve an injured squirrel from a tree, and the third was a false alarm.

Potter, Cuff and the RECORDER join in a big "thank you" to everyone in Menlo Park and the Menlo Park fire district for fine cooperation.

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT

Appropriately coming at the outset of the New Year, final approval has been given by the War Assets Administration to Menlo Park's appraisal of the civic center and recreation area acquired by the city on former Dibble hospital property. The city now begins the New Year with all hurdles cleared before the taking of full title, which is exected in about two weeks.

Some of the developments in the project now can be assured, such as entering a lease with the national guard for a meeting place and providing a site for a Girl Scout house. These can be formally accomplished once title is obtained.

WAA approval of the appraisal means that the city will save some $5000 on the cost that had been estimated even after the 50 per cent discount granted on that portion of the property used for recreation purposes.

The total appraisal is $79,692, while the city had been anticipating a price of close to $85,000.

Now holding the real property and improvements under a custodianship, the city within a matter of days will have full title as the culmination of an outstanding job of municipal planning.

SMALL BUSINESSMAN?

Just what is a small businessman? The exact definition might be difficult because the term is used so generally, as are the expressions "big business" and "small business."

A publicity release from the National Association of Manufacturers contains a biographical sketch of its new president, Wallace F. Bennett, who has been elected by the NAM directors to head the organization in 1949.

The NAM describes Mr. Bennett, president of a paint and varnish manufacturing firm in Salt Lake City, as a "small businessman" and dwells considerably on that point. The sketch also notes that besides heading the manufacturing firm, he is president of an automobile distributing company, director of a bank, director of an insurance company and director of one of the far west's major oil refining companies.

While not doubting Mr. Bennett's qualifications for NAM leadership or his success and ability as a businessman, we wonder whether the NAM public relations people weren't overdoing it a bit along the "small businessman" line.

Their release emphasized that the man who sweeps out the plant "still calls Mr. Bennett 'Wallace'."

Our own idea of a typical "small businessman" is the kind we know right around here, the fellow who operates without a directorate, who waits on his customers, who does his own merchandising, who unlocks the front door in the morning . . . and who may even sweep out the place himself.

Your City's Business

By MAYOR CHAS. P. BURGESS

The New Year finds the Menlo Park city government getting settled in its new quarters in our civic center on the former Dibble Hospital property. City officials are very proud of the spacious, well arranged offices in the new city hall and new police station, and the city council is highly pleased with the new council chamber, with its well designed council platform and table, and with its acoustical properties so much superior to the old meeting place.

The street and park departments are, of course, happy with the corporation yard with its garages, store house and workshop, but it is no novelty to them. They moved in early in the summer of 1947, by informal agreement of the federal agencies involved, and have been using the property for 18 months. Because the occupancy of the city hall and police station required some expenditure of money before they could be used for those purposes, and because removal from the old city hall building would have automatically terminated the lease, we did not move the rest of the city government over until we were certain that the purchase would be consumated.

The big hurdles were the War Assets' appraisal, formal offer of sale by War Assets Administration, establishment of our position of sole priority bidder, passage by congress and signature by the president of the bill allowing a 50 per cent discount on park and recreation properties when purchased by states and political subdivisions, and finally passage of our bond issue and its sale to a bond house at an average interest rate of two and three-eights per cent. The formalities from there on were approval of the recreation purpose by the national park service (so the 50 per cent discount could be allowed), and approval of the sale by the War Assets Administrator in Washington, D. C.

This last action was taken last week, so the remaining red tape is making out the papers for the actual transfer in the San Francisco office and payment of the purchase price. This should be accomplished within the next two or three weeks. During the last 18 months we have operated under a lease, just now executed, whereby we had possession in return for maintaining and preserving the property. Through all our long negotiations, officials in the local office of War Assets have been most helpful and cooperative, and we who have dealt with them are very appreciative.

We had estimated at the time of the bond election that the net cost of the property would be about $85,000 as we did not know just how the cost would be divided between recreation (upon which the 50 per cent discount is allowed) and non-recreation. We have now learned that the non-recreation property (2½ acres, including the police station, city hall and street department workshop and garages) is appraised at only $14,240, with the balance of the $145,154 cost subpject to the discount. Thus the cost will actually be $79,697, well below the value of the 28 acres of land alone. The additional $5,000 available from the bond money will be used for additional improvements to the property.

Our new civic center is not as centrally located as the old city hall. On the other hand, lots of parking space is available there at all times. If you wish to summon a policeman, the emergency telephone in the red box will remain on the outside wall of the old city hall for public use. A similar phone has been ordered for the outside of the new police station. (Incidentally the phone number of the police department is DAvenport 3-4131. It is incorrectly listed on page 51 of the current phone directory, although the correct number appears just inside the front cover.) To make the new civic center more conveniently accessible, the street department in the next few months will build a road directly in from Ravenswood. Meanwhile, the best route is to use the Ravenswood entrance of Stanford Village and turn right.

VETERAN'S GUIDE

State low-interest financing of homes and farms for California veterans will be the major topic of a Veterans Service Conference to be held in Sacramento on Friday, January 14, at which San Mateo County will be represented by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer.

The conference is sponsored by the state department of veterans affairs, and will convene at 10 a.m. at the American Legion Post 61 Hall. Several officials of the department's division of farm and home purchases will present a panel discussion designed to give Granger and other veteran counselors present a well-rounded understanding of how best to help veterans obtain the low-cost State loans.

High-ranking officials of federal agencies concerned with veteran problems will also be on hand to speak on problems of current interest.

During Granger's absence the staff of the Veterans service office at the Courthouse in Redwood City will render the usual services to San Mateo County veterans.

Five "helpful hints" for veterans who wish to reinstate lapsed national service life insurance term policies were offered by insurance service of Veterans administration Branch 12 area (California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii.)

They are:

1. If possible, the policy should be reinstated before it has been lapsed longer than three months. In most cases, early reinstatements make qualifying physical examinations unnecessary.

2. All questions on the reinstatement application should be answered. Failure to do so means a delay in regaining insurance protection.

3. The application must be dated. If not dated, it is not valid.

4. The application must be mailed to VA within five days. If the postmark is later than five days of the date on the application, a new form will be required.

5. Two monthly payments required for reinstatement must accompany the application. Without premium payments, VA cannot reinstate the insurance.

* * *

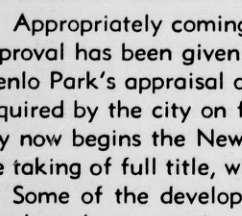

QUESTION: When is a Certificate of eligibility from VA for loan guarantee purposes necessary?

ANSWER: It is necessary when the veteran is unable to furnish the lender with his original discharge papers, or when his period of service was less than 90 days, or when his service was in the armed forces of a government allied with the United States in World War II.

* * *

QUESTION: On what priority basis is a World War I veteran admitted to a Veterans Administration hospital?

ANSWER: Emergency cases have first priority; those suffering from injuries incurred in or aggravated by wartime service are next on the priority list, and those who swear they are unable to pay hospital charges for nonservice-connected disabilities or illnesses are third. The latter must wait until a bed is available.

Lions	16	12
Terrors	16	12
Firemen	14	14
Davenport	10	18

The Firemen moved up on the ladder to start a fire under the Lions and the Terrors, deadlocked in first place, by taking the Lions on Monday night. Al Cleland rapped out a 462 to lead the Firemen.

The Lions took scoring honors, 2129 to 2101.

Joe Maloney's Terrors swept the boards to tie up with the Lions in their session with Davenport Construction. Jim Ciradella ran up a 487 to lead the Terrors.

Rust and other foreign deposits in the automobile cooling system cause considerable damage unless removed at regular intervals, the California State Automobile association advises. Rust inhibitor, an inexpensive compound available at service stations, helps to prevent damage from rust.

MP WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS TALK ON TEXTILES MAKING

A talk on textile manufacturing was given by M. S. Belangie, operator of Menlo Textiles, at monthly meeting of the Menlo Park Woman's club at the Presbyterian church social hall Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Belangie's talk followed a dessert luncheon.

At a business session, the club members voted a 100 per cent subscription to the memorial hostess house at Yountville, Cal., a project of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Members also voted a donation to Youth Concerts, Inc., which will sponsor a series of musical events for young persons at Palo Alto this spring.

It was announced the club's literary section would meet at 1 p.m. Jan. 28 at the home of Mrs. Thomas Cuff.

Excessive consumption of water by an automobile battery is usually the result of an overcharged battery, according to the California State Automobile association. Overcharging causes the battery to overheat.

Traffic Safety Group To Meet

Working with the San Mateo county traffic safety commission, the committee will draw up plans to put into operation a seven-point program for control of "hot rods" and motor scooters. The program was adopted at a meeting of the group last week under the temporary chairmanship of George McQueen.

Arrangements of Christmas cards interested us during the holidays; perhaps, readers will want to apply such ideas on Valentine's Day and Easter. Mrs. Paul Bethel taped cards around her doorway, making an attractive entrance. A variation is to pin cards to red ribbons and allow them to stream from the wall. As to what to do with the cards after the holidays, a suggestion is to paste them in scrap books and send them to children's hospital wards. If you have school age children, they can do this themselves. Some parents pass on the cards to their smaller children for cutouts. (Old colored comics are good for this purpose too.)

Cooperating in an unusual way, Mrs. Will Klamm and Mrs. Selmar Satre divide unusually expensive foods and those cans which seem to last so long when used by one family. Sauerkraut, canned sweet potatoes, dill pickles and such foods are practical used thus; then no one gets tired of them.

Orange crates serve as useful shelves. Mrs. Sterling Silver has an ideal contrivance for her boys' playthings. In the hall she has stacked orange crates on top of each other and nailed them secure. She has two stacks of boxes on one side, two on the other, and between them two broomsticks at different levels. The crates serve as toy shelves. The broomsticks hold coat hangers for the children's clothes.

Mrs. Sylvan Kaplan has used orange crates for an additional kitchen cupboard. When painted and covered with oil cloth, they are an attractive as well as useful addition. Of course the shelves can be easily covered by a fancy curtain on a curtain rod.

Another clever stunt for the nursery is used by Mrs. Walter Barker. She has used children's blocks for the knobs of dressers, simply by screwing them in place. The blocks are not only appropriate but easy for small fingers to manage.

Recently we mentioned setting hair with full-strength cologne when in a hurry. We have since been told to use a drop of eau de cologne in the water while setting the wave to cover the scent of a lemon or vinegar rinse.

Mrs. Richard Neal has a simple way of avoiding shapeless cookies while using a cookie cutter. She rolls the dough on wax paper, cuts the cookie, then with scissors cuts off the paper. It is easy to remove one cookie from the paper without stretching or tearing it.

Mrs. E. R. Caldwell has a simple recipe for hard sauce; you might even call it "easy hard sauce." She combines 2½ tablespoons of flour with ½ cup of milk, then cooks the mixture until it boils, and sets it aside to cool. She creams ¾ cup of sugar, ½ cup of margarine, and ½ teaspoon of salt. This she adds to the luke-warm flour and milk mixture and flavors it with vanilla.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bethel have used a barrel for coffee tables. They sawed in half a barrel, banded each half, and painted them. With a heavy peasant-weave scarf, they add a rustic touch to the home.

Another clever originator is Paul Porter, who has made a table lamp and floor lamp out of redwood posts. He made a simple base of two redwood pieces and set the post atop them. Lacking the tools to bore through the post, he grooved one side and ran the cord up it. It is not only easy to make but simple to repair if necessary.

CC DIRECTORS TO MEET

An important meeting of the Menlo Park chamber of commerce board of directors will be held Friday, Jan. 7, at 7:30 in the council chambers at civic center, John Sullivan, secretary, announces.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Conducted by
MRS. SPENCER C. FISH

The annual meeting of the Menlo Park-Atherton Girl Scout area for the election of officers will be held on Tuesday, January 11, at 10 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Harold Heakin, 2160 Santa Cruz avenue, Menlo Park.

In view of the greatly increased activity of the Girl Scout movement in this area, it is particularly important that every woman in Girl Scout work be present at this meeting. Mrs. Heakin requests the attendance of all the members of the town council, the neighborhood chairmen, every leader and co-leader so that in the selection of officers a true majority choice can be had.

The creative imagination work and careful planning of the leaders of intermediate scouts is developing some very interesting projects.

In the field of arts and crafts, under the guidance of Mrs. Donald Staples, leather tool work will be taught. Mrs. Staples, who is an excellent craftswoman, has purchased a complete set of leather tools for the use of the girls, and will teach them this fine art.

In the same field of arts and crafts is Mrs. Joseph Hanna, who is well known professionally for her fine art work. Mrs. Hanna will lend her talent to the sewing project in the designing of costumes which the girls will make to establish a permanent costume wardrobe for special events.

Under the skilled direction of Mrs. Albert Hammermann, a play acting project will be launched, and from the splendid reception given the "Boy in the Meadow," directed by Mrs. Hammermann, this project should be successful.

The varied talent of Mrs. Staples is revealed through her devoted interest in the agricultural project, which she has developed and is enthusiastic to launch. When the technical preliminaries are concluded for the acquisition of property in Burgess Park for the Girl Scout House, Mrs. Staples has offered to build on the site a small greenhouse and a lath house. In addition to the usual book work required for the agricultural badge, the girls will be afforded the opportunity of earning their badges in a most interesting manner. With these facilities they will have practical instruction in the growing of plants, cuttings, and seedlings. They will also be taught how to prune and care for fruit trees.

And, for the little Brownies, a puppet play project will be started. The enthusiastic and joyous interest in puppets was demonstrated recently at the holiday party of Cheerie Heakin. Her guests were Brownies from Miss Harker's, Fremont, St. Joseph's, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. Upon the showing of the puppet show, without exception the children were overjoyed, amused, and curious. Not content with being entertained, they wanted to examine the puppets and now want to make their own.

Family Council plans for the winter quarter will be drawn up when the new representatives hold their first meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the resident counselor's office.

President Ruth Whelan will appoint chairmen of standing committees at that time. On the agenda are the sewing class, adult and children's movies, the bulletin board, and the Mothers' Club tea, planned for February 21. Units that have not yet elected new representatives and alternates should do so and report their names to Mrs. Whalen in 202-13.

T. S. Ary, who was injured in a traffic accident the day after Christmas, is recovering in the Palo Alto hospital.

Mr. Ary incurred a compound fracture of his right leg. He was struck by a car while walking up Palm Drive on the way to basketball practice. He will have an operation on his leg this week, but will be able to continue studies at Stanford this quarter. His program has been arranged to allow him to study while hospitalized.

Broadcasting over radio station KEEN as well as on the campus station, KSU, Paul Bethel will renew his weekly analysis of the news at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The KEEN broadcast will run simultaneously with his campus broadcast from the Palo Alto offices of the station. Mr. Bethel is a graduate student in the Stanford political science department.

Great news in the Village is the number of babies arriving during the holidays. Latest of the offspring is the red-headed son of Jean and Bart Sheela, who arrived on registration day, January 3. Named Barton Cecil Sheela III, he weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces. His grandmother, Mrs. Barton Sheela of Porterville, is here to see the youngster.

Also born January 3 was Martha Gail Neal, daughter of Dick and Gail Neal. She weighed 7 opunds, 9 ounces at birth. She has an older brother, Richard, who was two in September. Mrs. Neal and Mrs. Sheela, Village neighbors, are sharing a room in the Palo Alto hospital.

Another pair of neighbors had children just one day apart. Barbara Zoe Shean, the first child of Dudley and Audrey Shean, was born on December 26. She weighed 8 pounds, 2 ounces. A Christmas baby was Jonathon Lee Kaplan, the son of Margorie and Sylvan Kaplan. He weighed 8 pounds, 1 ounce. He has an older brother David, who is three years old.

Lewis Simpson, Jr., the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Simpson, was born on December 23. He weighed 6 pounds, 14 ounces.

Janet and John Wyss also have a young son, John Arthur Wyss Jr. He was born during finals week on December 13 and weighed 7 pounds, 4 ounces. He is their first child, and Mrs. Wyss says she is certainly profiting from the Red Cross child care class she recently attended.

Race relations will be discussed by the Village Book club when Jean Porter makes her report at tonight's meeting at the home of Bernice Stroessler. Mrs. Porter will review Alan Paton's "Cry, the Beloved Country," a novel dealing with the racial problem in South Africa. She will relate it to "Mousetown, U.S.A."

Leaving the Village this week are Phyllis and Bill Fritz, who are moving to Long Beach. Mr. Fritz, a graduate in geology, will work for Standard Oil.

Ruth and Bryan Wilkinson have gone to Los Angeles, where Mr. Wilkinson will do personnel work for the Prudential Life Insurance company. While working, he will do research toward his doctorate in psychology.

Jean and Bob Wallace have moved to Sacramento, where Mr. Wallace will teach in the Stanford Junior high school. They have one child, Dougie, who is a year old.

Dave and Flo Thompson are already in Tacoma, Wash., where Mr. Thompson will work for the Philco Corporation as an engineer. Mrs. Thompson was doing graduate work at Stanford in Pacific-Asiatic studies while Mr. Thompson studied engineering. They have two children, Catherine, 9 months, and David, 2 years.

SM County Gets Tax 'Windfall'

San Mateo county will have a windfall of $116,950 as a result of the state taking over administration of aid to the needy aged and blind on Jan. 1 under the terms of Prop. No. 4 (Article XXV, California Constitution), California Taxpayers' association estimated.

The estimated surplus includes $88,127 budgeted for the county's share of aid to the needy aged for the January to June, 1949, period, and $4,017 budgeted for aid to the blind, together with $24,806 budgeted for administrative costs for aged and blind aid for December, 1948, through June, 1949.

Taxes have already been levied to raise this $116,950 and are included in the $4,417,850 property tax levy for general county purposes for 1948-49, the association pointed out.

The year 1949 has started with a beehive of activities out our way, with every night this week (and days too) full of doings and goings on.

A look back over the week finds some tired folks, who welcomed in the New Year with parties, open houses and such. The Carroll Da Mants not only had open house at their home on New Years Day to celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, but the East Palo Alto Grange turned out to give their fellow-members a "silver" entertainment at the first meeting of the group on Tuesday, Jan. 4, at the Ravenswood school auditorium.

We Walkers had open house on New Year's day and chatted with our very good friends from 2 until 5, then were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James David Maris in San Mateo. Their daughter Ann returned to finish the week-end at our house. She, Jane Roodhouse and Mary Ellen "Sue" McCone of Palo Alto, Doreen Luchs and Doris Callaghan of San Mateo are among those who returned to their Dominican Convent studies on Wednesday.

Tuesday night there was one member of the East Palo Alto Junior Women's Club who was most pleasantly surprised—Mrs. Frank Thonnen, who was greeted by a pink and blue bedecked baby buggy filled with stork shower presents for her and her baby-to-be. All this took place at the home of Mrs. Louis C. Bennett, senior advisor of the group. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Marvin Tupper and Mrs. Edward Bennett. The Bennett home was decorated with white candles and greenery.

Preceding the cake, ice cream and coffee, a business meeting was held.

Tomorrow representatives of the American Legion Post 472 of East Palo Alto will travel to the new San Carlos Legion Hall to take part in the first district meeting of the year.

Ravenswood P-TA executive board met at the Don Walker home on Tuesday evening to discuss meetings this year. It was reported that J. S. Cowgill of the San Mateo county probation office will be the principal speaker for the next meetings. He will discuss "Juvenile Protection." Hostesses for the evening will be the second grade room mothers. Mrs. Paul Mezzapelle, room mother, chairman announced the following women in charge: Mrs. Robert L. Stadler, chairman; Mrs. Carl Tait, Mrs. Henry Denton, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Donald Watson and Mrs. Harry Overstreet.

School nurse Mrs. Leonora Leicester was guest of the evening and she outlined the "wardrobe" as conducted by Palo Alto schools, recommending that the Ravenswood and Willow P-TA's begin such an activity. It was decided to write a letter to the board of trustees, requesting a room, such as the North Palo Alto kindergarten room on Gilbert street, when it is vacant this spring, for the project.

Founders' Day program plans were completed and the play ideas were to be referred to Mrs. James Percy, Founders' Day chairman, who was ill and not present.

Wednesday night found the Ravenswood-Willow Boosters once more in a huddle. A review of the Christmas tree affair was given and it was decided to begin plans for community decoration early this year. Business plans for the coming year were discussed. New officers were installed. They are Frank R. Reece, president; Donald O. Walker, vice president; Phyllis Walker, secretary; Hi Zimmer, treasurer; advisory board, Merrill G. Hatch, Walter Sjosten, Arthur Cobbledick; Deveral Andrus and Clarence Kavanaugh.

Jack Denton, chairman, had his committee together on Tuesday night at his home on Sacramento street. "Fathers' Follies", to be given on Feb. 10, 11, and 12 by the men of Ravenswood and Willow P-TA, to raise funds for Ravenswood district schools was the discussion topic. Acts were planned for and preliminary arrangements for staging the event were made.

Last night William H. Jones called together all the committeemen and den mothers of Ravenswood Cub Pack 3, to finish reregistering the pack and to have help planning activities for dens and pack meetings for the coming year.

Last night at the Scout House in Palo Alto Community Center, girls of Brownie Troop No. 1 of Ravenswood took part in an investiture service for their fathers, mothers and friends.

Tweenies who became Brownies were as follows: Denise Carr, Judy Courter, Daintree Davies, Louise Efimoff, Mary Ann Flores, Judy Hiatt, Virginia King, Sand and Sharon Morgan, Marilyn Mumford, Donna Ray, Brenda Reich, Carolyn Rider, Sarah Jean Sanders, Donna Scharnow, Betty Whitten, Eva and Jerrie Frisbee and Daisy Knabs. Troop leaders in charge of the event are Mrs. Vernon Morgan and Mrs. Henry Flores.

Another gathering of last night was the business meeting and installation of the officers of the Massachusetts Club at the American Legion Hall in East Palo Alto. The meeting began at 8.

This club is formed by former residents of Massachusetts who would like to have all other former residents come to their meetings and become acquainted or renew old friendships. Mrs. Clarence Gomes, DA 3-3564, welcomes inquiries.

Delaware, Ohio is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Rice, but they have been spending the winter at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Roden of East Palo Alto.

Dr. Charlotte Roden is head of the Ravenswood-Willow P-TA joint parent education group who meet on the first and third Thursdays fo each month. Last night in the Ravenswood school cafeteria, the topic of the evening was on "Social Behavior and Problems."

Girl Scout Troop 14 held its first 1949 meeting at the Ravenswood school at 3:15 on Wednesday, Jan. 5. Mrs. Harry Overstreet is their leader.

Another Wednesday afternoon meeting was that of the East Palo Alto Senior Women's club, which convened at the East Palo Alto Community church for its first of the year check-up.

Friday night Palo Lodge 209 Knights of Pythias and P. A. Temple 70 meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the American Legion Hall. This is a regular meeting.

Next week promises to be just as full as the year's first one. F'rinstance, on Monday night, January 10, the Ravenswood school district board of trustees holds its regular meeting.

Moved up a night is the regular monthly meeting of the South East San Mateo County Recreation Association (hope they soon change that name!)—this group will meet also on Monday night, January 10 at Ravenswood School at 8 p.m.

The annual meeting of members of the East Palo Alto Church will take place on Tuesday night at the East Palo Alto Community church building. The evening will begin with a fellowship dinner. This will be followed by a business meeting where election of two deacons, a new Sunday school superintendent, secretary and treasurer of the church board will be held.

Discussion of the budget for the coming year and stress on the building fund for the new church to be located at University and Bell will be on the agenda. Elevation views of the building will be shown.
